HAVE YOU EVER WONDERED WHO COMES TO THE WEDNESDAY COMMUNITY BREAKFAST?

One of our long-time volunteers shared their thoughts about the WCB and why they volunteer each week:

"All of the guests at our table have inherent worth and dignity, and the greatest gift I've received is being there with them on Wednesday mornings. Some have children, others are alone. Some are veterans; others are students. Some have advanced degrees; others haven't earned a GED. Some are musical and play the piano for us, others are artists. Some struggle with mental and emotional challenges; others with addictions. Many have been underprivileged all of their lives. Some live in shelters, others in tents in the woods, or in cars. Some bring take-out breakfast to others in need and some bring food to give."
